Five Steps to the Harem follows DI Catherine Moore as she investigates the rich and powerful Lord Nicholas Redthorn, who she believes has killed three women. She repeatedly hauls him in for interviews, during which he denies everything and instead behaves in a sexually aggressive manner that both infuriates and entices her/5. Do not see any girl in your harem more than three times (two is better) in a ten day period. 3 Girls At A Time I believe this is the golden rule to the harem: have three girls. I was provided a copy of Five Steps To The Harem via Net galley in exchange for an honest review. This book started of really great. Catherine is investigating two murders and she has zeroed in on Lord Nicholas Redthorn. Five Steps To The Harem was so much more than I thought it was going to be. Catherine has been chasing down Nicholas Redthorn for months - in her capacity as a London cop. There has been so much happening in her life the past 12 months, and she is completely focused on them "getting their man" Nicholas Redthorn is not what she expected at all.
